

With all the different public cloud solutions available today, it is little wonder that many organisations struggle with where to start when moving to the cloud. Organisations need to be certain that their data is secure and compliant when making the move to cloud based services.

This is where our cloud service offerings comes in.

CHALLENGES

- √ Organisations want to embrace public cloud services but often do not know where or how to start
- √ Ensuring the security of and access to public cloud resource and data is a common concern
- √ Delivering a secure, compliant and highly available base infrastructure in which to build services can be a daunting proposition

THE BLUESOURCE APPROACH

The bluesource approach is to pre-package best and proven practice-based infrastructure models to enable our clients to get up and running quickly. We start with understanding your organisational objectives and work with them to provision a base platform consisting of regional virtual network environments and connectivity options. Where appropriate, we also consider domain controllers along with a security model and a set of policies to govern your organisation's infrastructure. From here, setting up new services can be achieved with peace of mind.

BENEFITS

- √ Public cloud services are evergreen with new services and capabilities being continually added enabling the organisation to adapt to changing requirements easily and at scale
- √ Realise a secure and compliant base platform on which to explore and build public cloud services
- √ Realise a governed infrastructure through templated policy-driven cloud design
- √ Select one of our secure best practice designs to get up and running quickly
